Slight Reaction Occurred at Closing-Excellent Money Outlook. Total Sales, 619,700.

NEW YORK. April 10.—The stock market enjoyed a considerable period of strength to-day, but gave evidence during the latter stages of the advance of a reactionary tendency. The advances were especially sharp in a number of usually mactive issues, and the rather erratic jumps which were forced in these gave the market an artificial aspect, which begot a spirit of caution in following the movements. The repetition of protestations of the determination to maintain prices carries an impression of enforcing an argument to differing views in the trade, and does not quiet the persistent rumors of a likely reduction in prices.

The early strength was traceable to the influence of the Eric financial settlement; the stocks of that company and of Union Pacific leading the movement. The assumption of buyers of these stocks was that more intimate relations between the railroad systems would be the outgrowth of the advance of funds to the Eric by E. H. Harriman, Prospects for a good bank statement had some influence on the market, although the prevailing case of the money market obscures the importance of the weekly changes to some extent.

The promise is for a gain in cash by ance of the weekly changes to some extent.

The promise is for a gain in cash by the banks of about $5,000,000.

The fact that receipts from the interior on balance as a result of the express movement are somewhat smaller than last week, was accepted with complacency as a continuance of a full tide of the money flow from the interior will be regarded as of sinister import as to the shrinkage in business activity. A rise in the private discount rate in London was the feature of the day in the international money markets. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $4,278,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales 619,700 shares of stock.

decline of 164 points prices firmed up ain on a renewal of bull support and covng, which was encouraged by expectations
a visible bullish supply statement and orts of a better spot demand in the South, in the last few minutes the advance was seked by rumors that Southern spinners in further curtailments. The close was

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The dry goods market ruled quiet for the day. Cotton yarns are still declining, and stocks are being forced on the market. Raw material values are declining, but they are not the cause for the declines in goods values to such an extent as the decline in the demand for for goods. Jobbers and retailers are buying only for immediate needs, save as to the few goods on which they are forced to place orders now for deliveries the last half of the year. In most of the large cotton goods commission bouses it is believed that trade has been started on the road to recovery, but the measure of recovery will be slow for the next thirty or sixty days.
